tion yesterday and last evening was very fine, showing the increased interest which the exhibit continues to awaken. A very handsome water-color, "The Entrance to Grand Canal," a Venetian scene, done by Lucien W. Powell, was sold yesterday for a good price.

Mr. Powell is originally from Loudoun county, Va., though he has lived in Washington for several years, where he has its studio. He is a brother of Mrs. William Thomas, of this city. His picture, "Venice at Sunset," took the $100 Parsons prize at the thirteenth annual exhibit of the Washington Society of Artists.

STUDIOUS TRIO.

casy of touch, the harmony of tone and the purity of coloring, render Miss Fisher's painting something so fine that to look at it is to long to possess it.

Among a group of remarkable pastels is a portrait of Miss II-, by Jane Bridgham Child, of Washington. The figure in the portrait is standing, the face wonderfully pathetic, the clasped hands lovely and expressive. The air of repose and ease which is very noticeable in the pictured girl recalls to mind the admonition of a Southern woman of a former generation to a mercurial descendant, when she said: "Ah, my child, one of the first things a lady should learn is to do nothing gracefully, and as if she mark, a canvas every part of which carries a message which the eye delights to drink in. Scarcely less beautiful are "November Sunshlav" and "Morning on the Upper James," the work of the same facile hand.

THE "WHITE ROSE."

THE "WHITE ROSE."

Another bit of exquisite work in watercolor is Anna S. Fisher's "White Rose."

The charm of the composition, the deli-

were born to it."

A very strong example in water-color is William fittschel's "Gathering Storm." The clouds are heavily massed and the earth seems quivering with anticipatory dread, while the lurid tints in the atmosphere are intensely realistic. "At Evening," a water-color landscape, by Miss Adele Williams, is full of the brooding hush and peace of hooded twilight, whose purple mantle spreads over the sky. In the distance shines the light from the windows of a laborer's cottage, gleaming redly like a beacon across the meadow lands and suggesting visions of rest and comfort around the hearth-stone within.

and seductiveness, whose glance from the canvas, where she sits with her shad-dowy tresses and her red lips, recalls the words of the old song, "Juanita," declaring:

Where the warm light loves to dwell,
Saddened looks, yet tender,
Breathe a fond farewell."
Edmund H. Garrett's "Coast of England." done in water-color, is prominent among a trie of pletures from his brush, all of which are charming in choice of subject and treatment.
"Rue Chef de Ville, La Rochelle," by Colin Campbell Cooper, is a marvel of color and harmony.

M. M. Straus has a pastel which he calls "Audrey's Home, Williamsburg, Va." One stands before the quaint little house, which looks out of the picture with its dormer windows and slanting roof, and instantly a vision of "Audrey," lithe, brown and bewitching, comes into mind. Audrey's name must invest everything associated with it with interest, and Mr. Straus has done more in transtering the Williamsburg house, to his and Mr. Straus has done more in trans-fering the Williamsburg house to his canvas than painting its picture. He has cothed it with Audrey's heritage, has cothed it with Audrey's heritage, that of immortality.

Bertha Everfield Perrie, whose "Band Dunes" is one of the finest of the exhibition water-colors, has among several others "The Blacksmith of Monhegan." This picture reveals the interior of the smith's shop, and the blacksmith, sinewy of frame and rugged of face, stands beside his anvil. The dusky light and the rich coloring are admirable adjuncts in a very harmonious whole.

BE INDEPENDENT.

It's Easy to Shake Off the Coffee Habit There are many people who make the humiliating acknowledgment that they are dependent upon Coffee to "brace them up" every little while. These have never learned the truth about Poetum Cereal Coffee, which makes leaving off coffee a simple matter and brings health and strength in place of coffee ills. A ledy of Davenport, Iowa, who has used Fostum Food Coffee for five years, is competent to talk upon the subject. She says:

says:
"I am a school teacher, and during extra work, when I thought I needed to be braced up, I used to indulge in rich, strong coffee, of which I was very fond, and upon which I thought I was dependent.
"I began to have serious heart paint-and upon which I thought I was dependent.

'I began to have serious heart paipitation and at times had sharp pains around the heart and more or less stomach trouble. I read about Postum and got some to try. I dropped coffee, took up the Postum, and it worked such wonders for me that many of my friends took it up.

'In a short time I was well again, even able to attend evening socials. And I did not miss my coffee at all: Now I can truthfully say that I have been repaid fully for the change I made. I have no indications of heart disease, and not once in the past four years have I hade a sick headache or billious spell.

'My father, 78 years old, is a Postum endusiast, and feels that his good health in a large measure is due to the six curs of good Postum which he erjoys each day.' Names furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

WILL BECOME LAW AT NOON TO-DAY

Believed That Gov. Montague Will Not Sign House BIII No. 102.

One of the most interesting and important bills passed at the recent session of the Legislature is that relating to the subject of corporations, and poplarly known as House bill 102.

From what can be learned on the subject, it is not believed that His Excellency will sign the bill, but that he will allow it to become a law by force of the constitutional provisions on the subject. It is an open secret that His Excellency does not approve the merger clause of the bill, and still it is said that he does not desire to put himself in the attitude of practically holding up progress through the issuance of charters, and for this reason he refrained on Tuesday from wotoing the measure. While Governor Mootague is not discussing the measure for publication, it is believed that he will permit it to become law without his signature, and it is understood that under these circumstances it will become law at noon to-day, and after that hour the commission will be in a position to grant charters. charters.

Says Bridgeforth Will Come.

Mr. W. C. Winn, of Lunenhurg, is in the city, and says that it is likely that Mr. G. D. Bridgeforth, a brother of Dr. Baskerville Bridgeforth of this city, will represent his county in the Legislature at the next ression. Mr. Bridgeforth is popular and will likely have no opposition.

Another Requisition. Governor Montague yesterday issued a requisition on the Governor of New York for Thomas Mosely and Charles Clarke, who are wanted in Charlotte county for murder.

Both the men are accused of participation in the same crime and will be brought back to Virginia at once. AUCTION SALES-THIS DAY.
